

Year 12 Fashion Students to present at this year's Mercedes Benz Fashion Festival

3 of our Year 12 emerging designers will showcase in the NEXT Hotel, Next Gen Group show, under the label – Bold – (Believe in One'elf and Live the Dream) – The collection – “The Sky's the Limit”, is inspired by some of the top European, Italian and French fashion designers of our time.

The NEXT Hotel Next Gen runway show showcases the very best young creatives Queensland has to offer, our future designers! This is an amazing opportunity for our designers, a platform that will expose our college and our girls to industry experts on a local, national and international platform.

KGSC is a unique school with an existing creative edge. Our Visual Arts faculty has a long history of high achievement and is highly regarded as leader in curriculum and pedagogy.

As part of our Visual Arts program, and our strong ties with QUT, Creative Industries Precinct, Year 12 Fashion students have an opportunity to create an annotated visual portfolio that will be used to gain entry into fashion design courses at university and tafe or to gain employment into the fashion industry.

Part of student assessment is Concept to Catwalk where students explore the role of the Fashion Designer and the creative process necessary to develop a contemporary collection. Students develop their concepts of design to realisation as a fashion collection. They design and construct fashion garments, taking fashion concepts from design ideas to a professional runway show, “I-Wear Spring/Summer Collections” @ QUT – Block”

This year we take one of our collections to the most prestigious runway of all – Mercedes-Benz Fashion Festival.
